About Pune Local Centre
Established on 29th November 1958, Pune Local Centre is the first Local Centre established by Council. It is the largest local Centre having more than 5900 corporate members on roll. The rich heritage of Pune on historical, educational, industrial, cultural and social fronts gives an insight into the growth of the Local Centre. Over the years, Pune Local Centre has justified its existence by organizing technical activities starting from National Conventions, All India Seminars, workshops, lecture meetings etc on topics related to emerging trends in various Engineering divisions. Publication of Annual Technical Journal having ISBN number is the flagship technical activity carried out only by Pune Local Centre.
